Brrrrrrr! Cold, hard facts put students on ice

by Dru Sefton

Some students found a good excuse for lengthening their semester break by a few days as sub-zero temperatures gripped the Midwest, making travel difficult in many areas and causing problems for schools and utility companies.

Early Monday afternoon, the only Illinois highways closed were Illinois Routes 78 and 88 in the northwest corner of the state, Routes 2 and 172 in the Sterling area and Routes 47 and 23 in the McHenry county area, Illinois State Police Trooper Robert Wise said.

Wise added many highways had only one lane open for travel. These included highways in the Sterling, Rockford and Elgin areas in the northwest portion of the state. The southern one-third of the state had normal winter driving conditions, he added.

"We had some problems with stranded motorists on (Illinois Route) 57 when it was closed Saturday night, but things seem to be going better now," Wise said. "There are still some bad sections on the highways, but they are mainly up north, where there is blowing and drifting snow."

Wise said there has been no need to set up shelters for stranded motorists as in other states. "We're just trying to keep the travelers moving along," he said.

While travel has been difficult, even staying at home can be a problem when temperatures reach far into the below-zero digits.

Jack Cook of Central Illinois Public Service said there have been problems with wind knocking down power lines, leaving some homes in the Brocton and Barton areas without power over the weekend.

"But really, we have had very few major problems," Cook said. "The number of calls has been slight. We're knocking on wood that we won't have anything major in the next few days, either."

Cook said he had employees working extra duties over the weekend to make sure the gas pressure was maintained.

Katie Pollock of the Charleston water department said that utility has been "swamped" with calls from area residents experiencing problems with their water service.

"Although we haven't had any major problems yet, we have had many calls from people with frozen meters," Pollock said. "We have had close to 50 calls today (Monday) alone."

Pollack said water department employees were working to fix any problems as quickly as possible.

"The calls haven't slacked off any since the weekend," Pollock said. "We're working as fast as we can."

While the utilities in the area tried to keep everything running as normally as possible, area school children spent Monday celebrating the cold-weather holiday, courtesy of Mother Nature.

Dr. William Hill, superintendent of Charleston Community Unit One schools, said a combination of factors prompted his decision to close area schools Monday.

"With the wind chill factor being as cold as it was over the weekend, I felt students waiting for buses Monday morning were chancing frostbite or illness," Hill said. "We also had problems with at least three of our school buildings and heat. We couldn't bring the temperature in the buildings up to a comfortable level, so we decided not to have the students in the buildings."

Hill said he anticipated schools to be open Tuesday.

The weather didn't affect Eastern as the university was closed for the day due to the observance of Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday.

Martin Ignazio, physical plant supervisor, said there have been no problems with utilities (see BRRRR!, page 7)

Registration, add-drops set for this week

Central registration for spring semester is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 1:40 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday in McAfee Gym.

Undergraduates register according to the first letter of their last name, Director of Registration Michael Taylor said recently.

To register, students must present their I.D.'s and pay spring fees, he said.

Add-drops will be open from the first class day through the fourth day of classes in the Union Old Ballroom, he added.

No changes will be made in the add-drop procedure pending recommendations by a committee studying the registration process, Taylor said.

Students should report to the ballroom at their scheduled time according to the last digit of their social security number.

All students may add or drop a class from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Friday.

Departments to take part in monitoring add-drops

by Peggy Schneider

Although the basic process for adding or dropping classes will not change, a system for monitoring students completing the process has been developed for this semester.

Students will still add or drop classes in the University Union Old Ballroom as in the past, but may be required to consult department chairmen about the class they want to add to their schedule if the class is closed.

Individual departments are adopting methods of monitoring students during the add-drop process, such as developing a priority list of students who want the class, Director of Registration Michael Taylor said Friday.

The new system is considered temporary while an ad hoc committee studies the registration and add-drop processes and makes recommendations, Taylor added.

Dean of Student Academic Services Samuel Taber said Monday the new monitoring system was developed by Eastern administrators, including Vice President for Academic Affairs Stanley Rives, Vice President for Student Affairs Glenn Williams, Taber and Taylor.

The system is designed to combat any possible incidents of students attempting to buy their way into closed courses, Taylor said.

Students reportedly engaged in buying and selling business courses during add-drops last semester.

However, Taylor said he does not anticipate any similar problems this semester.

Although Eastern President Daniel Marvin said earlier that no changes would be made in the add-drop process, Taber said the new measure is "not a basic change. It is a security measure. It would be irresponsible not to implement a change (to prevent the possibility of further course selling.)"

The idea of allowing individual departments to monitor students is an alternative to Taber's proposal to set up two separate lines, one for adding classes and one for dropping classes, Taber said.

The method of monitoring students was left to the individual schools because of each area's differing needs, Taylor said.

News Round-up

Deep freeze hits U.S.

WASHINGTON—An invasion of arctic weather that has killed at least 32 people pushed southward Monday, sending temperatures to record lows across Dixie.

Schools and factories were closed in many cities from Chicago, where Sunday's temperature of minus 26 was an all-time record, to Atlanta, where Monday's minus 5 was the coldest since 1899.

Since the weekend, weather-related deaths including traffic fatalities, heart attacks and exposure have been reported in 15 states.

Travelers were stranded across parts of Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania, and several people, mostly elderly, froze to death in their homes.

Arms request rejected

WASHINGTON—President Reagan, in a move clearly aimed at bolstering his sagging relationship with mainland China, has rejected a long-standing request from Taiwan for advanced U.S. fighter planes.

Taiwan had sought to replace its fleet of F-5E fighters with the more advanced F5-G Tigershark.

The Peking government opposed the sale as a test of its fledgling ties with the United States.

Reagan's decision signaled that he now views the link with the communist mainland of equal or more importance to the United States.

Arms control talks resume

WASHINGTON—Despite the chill in East-West relations resulting from the crisis in Poland, strategic arms control talks between the United States and the Soviet Union are resuming on schedule Tuesday in Geneva.

Discussions are already under way with the Soviets in Geneva on the reduction of medium-range missiles, or theater nuclear forces, deployed in Western Europe.

Talks begin with automakers

Bargainers for Ford Motor Co. and General Motors opened emergency talks with the United Auto Workers on Monday by demanding immediate contract concessions to help them compete with foreign automakers.

The talks are taking place amid the worst industry slump in half a century. Bargainers from both sides hope to have in less than two weeks an agreement that would replace portions of the current contract which don't expire until Sept. 14.

NATO allies heed U.S. pressures, denounce martial law in Poland

BRUSSELS, Belgium—The NATO allies, at the urging of the United States, on Monday condemned martial law in Poland and Soviet support for the "systematic suppression" of Polish political freedoms.

With the exception of Greece, NATO's 15-member nations also pledged to consider economic sanctions against the Soviet Union in the future if political repression does not ease. Poland has been under martial law since Dec. 13.

U.S. Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. called the one-day special NATO meeting "a solid success for the alliance." He said it puts both Poland and the Soviet Union on notice that "there will be no business-as-usual while the situation in Poland continues."

Before the meeting, Haig said he would not ask for specific sanctions from the allies at present.

Haig told reporters at a news conference afterward that the meeting showed the allies have begun to act, and that they have established "a framework to serve as a firm guide" for possible sanctions in the future.

"Frankly, we did not expect the kind of consensus we achieved today," Haig said. The European allies have balked at moving as far against the Soviet Union as the Reagan administration has wanted.

Reagan announced economic sanctions against Poland shortly after the imposition of martial law, and followed them up with punitive economic restrictions against the Soviet Union.

They also said they would consider sanctions against the Soviet Union affecting shipping, air travel, imports, exports and the size of Soviet commercial delegations in NATO countries.

The United States wanted a clear statement putting the blame for martial law in Poland on the Soviet Union.

"The allies deplore the sustained campaign mounted by the Soviet Union against efforts by the Polish people for national renewal and reform and its active support for the subsequent systematic suppression of those efforts in Poland," the joint statement said.

Even Greece, which had reservations on some other parts of the communique, agreed on that point.

U.S.-Iran trade relations still poor

NEW YORK—One year after the U.S. trade embargo of Iran was lifted, there is little progress in restoring the once-flourishing commercial ties between the countries. Trade is but a trickle.

President Carter imposed the trade ban on April 8, 1980, although virtually all commerce had halted when Carter froze Iranian assets in the United States 10 days after the U.S. Embassy in Tehran and its personnel were seized Nov. 4, 1979.

Talks to end the crisis dragged on, in part due to the tangled web of financial disputes arising from the Iranian revolution and American actions aimed at pressuring Iran to release the hostages.

The trade embargo was lifted as part of the Jan. 20, 1981, agreement freeing the 52 hostages. But the act did little for trade.

In the first 11 months of 1981, the value of two-way trade with Iran was $341 million, the Commerce Department said. That compares with $6.6

billion for all 1978, before the fall of the Shah of Iran.

Because Iran is suffering from a shortage of hard currency reserves, the volume of trade is not likely to increase in the immediate future. The Iranian government said last week it would stop importing everything but food, medicine and farming and industrial products.

Iranian-U.S. ties still are chilly, in part because of lingering financial disputes dating from the hostage crisis.

Thousands of claims were lodged by U.S. companies charging breach of contract and other acts for which they seek compensation. And some U.S. banks are still dickering with Iran on repayment of loans.

Corporate planners in the U.S. are fearful of the continuing political unrest within Iran and the risks associated with its war with Iraq.

An extra holiday King's birthday closes Eastern

Eastern students received an extra holiday Monday when Eastern closed in honor of Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday.

Although the civil rights leader's actual birthday is Friday, Board of Governor's schools celebrated his birthday Monday to prevent the interruption of spring semester classes.

King, who was assassinated April 4, 1968, in Memphis, Tenn., came to national attention in 1956 when he led a boycott of public buses in Montgomery, Ala. to protest racial segregation.

Student suspects granted separate continued trials

by Dru Sefton

Two Eastern students charged in connection with the beating of a Charleston woman have been granted separate trials, said Coles County State's Attorney Nancy Owen.

The students, Carlos Johnson, 19, of Fairmount, and Paul Rathgeb, 18, of Alton, on Dec. 18 were granted separate trials by Circuit Court Judge Paul Komada.

At that time, Johnson waived a jury trial and the date for his bench trial has been set for Jan. 21, Owen said.

Rathgeb's jury trial is set for Feb.

16, Owen said.

A motion by Rathgeb for a change of venue was denied at the time of the trial separation.

Both are charged with home invasion, burglary, and aggravated battery in connection with an incident at the David Dow residence, 128 W. Jackson, on Sept. 11.

Dow's mother, Ruby, 80, was allegedly beaten by the two at the time of the break-in.

The two are also charged with burglary and battery in connection with another incident on the same date.

Debate team reaches octafinals

by Dawn Morville

An Eastern debate squad reached the octafinals in a debate tournament at Florida State University in Tallahassee and the semifinals at a tournament at Valencia College in Orlando, Florida during Christmas break.

Coach Mike Shelton said the team of senior Karen Shelton and sophomore Monty Donohew lost to Kansas State University, Manhattan, in the octafinals at the Florida State University tournament Dec. 29 to Dec. 31.

Shelton said the top 16 teams of the 34 teams in the tournament competed in the octafinals.

Eastern's squad entered the tournament with a 5-3 preliminary record, he said.

At the Valencia College tournament Jan. 2 to Jan. 4, Eastern lost to Wayne State University, Detroit, in the semifinal round.

Shelton said the team entered the tournament with a 6-2 preliminary record.

He added that 32 teams competed in the tournament.

During the two tournaments, Shelton said, the team beat squads from Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.; the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa; Lake Forest University, Winston-Salem, N.C.; and Emory College, Atlanta.

The next meet for the debate team is Jan. 15 to Jan. 17 at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, he said.

Let your voice be heard this year

As the new semester unfolds, students are unpacking from Christmas break with high expectations for the coming semester.

One common New Year's resolution among college students is to try to concentrate more on classes; to pull up that GPA.

But while grades and classes are important, there are more critical issues at hand!

Spring semester 1982 will be a semester that demands action from Eastern students.

A New Year's resolution students should make is to get involved with issues that directly affect them and make a difference for their own sake and that of the university as a whole.

This is a volatile time to make an impact concerning the split-level tuition increase. The Illinois Board of Higher Education has approved an increase that will have upperclassmen will pay an additional $132 in tuition per year, $48 more than underclassmen.

The proposal is now going before the Illinois legislature for its approval. Now is the time to write your state representative or senator and make your voice known.

Another far-reaching issue is the Illinois State Scholarship Commission's problems. A budgeting shortfall has caused the commission to ask some students at public universities to repay portions of grants. Students unhappy with this situation should again contact their state representative or senator and voice their concerns.

There are also issues closer to home, yet just as important.

The issue of underage drinking in Charleston bars has brought an area couple to the city council to request the repeal of the ordinance allowing 18, 19, and 20-year-olds to enter bars. This issue has been of concern to many Eastern students who enjoy frequenting area bars. Since this concerns Eastern students, you should make your opinion known to the city council.

Another issue that drew much attention last semester was the problem of buying and selling seats in classes. Some students felt the poor coordination of add/drop procedures created the problem. An ad hoc committee is now studying the procedure.

If you have suggestions for changing the procedure while going through add/drops, write them down and send them to Larry Williams, chairman of the ad hoc committee.

Another change students should pay close attention to is the new textbook rental service procedures. Any problems students see with the textbook pickup or return should be noted and addressed to Richard Sandefur, director of the service.

So often students sit back and just gripe about what they feel are serious problems. But there are so many forms of protest to make your voices heard: letters to the officials, attending meetings, circulating or signing petitions, and peaceful demonstrations.

Halfway around the world right now, a valiant attempt is being made by the people of Poland for restoration of their basic human rights. One of those rights they are fighting so bravely to preserve is that of free speech. Even through news blackouts, they have made their voices heard around the world.

It would be a waste of our precious freedom not to voice freedom of speech as we now have it. Our New Year's resolution should be to use our freedom to make a difference in our community at Eastern in every way possible.

I HEREBY RESOLVE TO GET INVOLVED IN THINGS AND DO SOMETHING WORTHWHILE!

SOUNDS ALMOST PATRIOTIC!

KINDA MAKES YOUR HEART POUND, HUH SNAKE!

No force without vote

Editor:

Dan Hunnicutt is entirely correct in his analysis of the politics of the tuition increase. Since 18-year-olds were given the right to vote some years ago, they have used the privilege all too little. Legislators know this and ignore them accordingly. Students have the power to be a force in American politics but they have made no difference at all.

I would only add to what Hunnicutt said by pointing out that it is hard to lend credibility to student complaints to raise fees to employ more jocks for the athletic teams as well as for other doubtful projects.

Donald F. Tingley
History department

Students to blame

Editor:

In response to the letter about the lack of concerts, let me say Mr. Crewse and Mr. Twitchell have been misled.

The fault lies not upon the concert coordinator but among the patrons of these concerts—namely Eastern students.

Top entertainers cannot be booked here because:

—1. We do not have adequate space and seating

—2. People are willing to travel to Champaign and Terre Haute to see these groups

—3. No one will come to the concerts because we don't draw and we don't draw because no one will come

It is a vicious circle. Many concerts have been canceled due to lack of advance ticket sales. When Mr. Rappe or any other concert coordinator confronts leading bands, they look at our past record and back off.

Publishing early gives students information now

Two years ago you would not be reading this column.

In the fall of 1980, The Daily Eastern News made the decision to publish the two days of registration before classes began.

The reasoning is, of course, to provide you with complete information about registration, add/drops, picking up textbooks and the pertinent news from Christmas break.

Previously, students had to rely on other sources for that information and might not have it handy.

This year publishing before classes begin presents an interesting situation—only about half of the university has returned to benefit from the information we have gathered.

Weather conditions have prevented many students from returning to school. Residence hall counselors are noting that fewer than 50 percent of their residents have returned.

But of course, the News does not decide whether or not to publish on certain days based on the number of people on campus. We follow the university calendar to determine our publication dates. There are a couple of gray areas in which we could decide against publication or for it.

The two registration days prior to the beginning of classes is one of those gray areas. Finals week is another.

These two days are days when we feel you need a newspaper to tell you what is happening on campus and to help you through the first hectic days of gathering books and rearranging your schedule.

The News has and will continue to keep your interests foremost in our minds in presenting you the day's news. Because we do, we have made a couple of changes this semester to better serve our readers.

Page 2, which has traditionally presented the top national and world news of the day, has been modified to include more news.

Previously, only three or four short stories could go on the page. The new page, called AP News Roundup, provides for two or three major stories to be given full coverage, in addition to several short news briefs.

With national and world news having an increasingly greater effect on all of us, the News felt the need to supply our readers with more indepth coverage.

In addition, our sports coverage will be expanding. We will be reporting the results of Eastern's sports clubs' competition and more features on sports figures.

Undoubtedly, other changes will be made as the semester progresses.

Let us know what you think of The Daily Eastern News. We're here to serve you.

Seats open on Student Senate

At least three seats on Student Senate will be open for the spring semester, a student government official said Monday.

Student Body President Bob Glover said petitions for one residence hall and two off-campus seats will be available at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

He said the petitions may be picked up at the Student Government office in the Union.

Senate Speaker Karen Kupsche, Yvonne Mathews and Mike Prillaman are the senators who are leaving their positions, Glover said.

Kupsche was elected speaker and vacated her seat; Mathews is at the end of her term; and Prillaman is moving off-campus and will be ineligible for his seat, Glover said.

Petitions are due back by 5 p.m. Jan. 19, he said.

"Any petition must have at least 25 signatures to be accepted," Glover said.

The Legislative Leadership Committee will interview candidates Jan. 19 and the senate will approve positions Jan. 20, he said.

Sponsored by ROTC

Art show features battle game

Eastern's ROTC is sponsoring an art display of historical elements of the army featuring a Dunn-Kemph battle simulation game Tuesday through Friday in the University Union walkway.

Capt. James Kantor, director of Eastern's ROTC program, said the game is composed of a terrain board depicting grounds, roads and other land objects.

The game is played by moving miniature artillery pieces according to the rules of a combat situation, he said.

Kantor said the game will be on display, but will be used primarily for ROTC classroom instruction to depict combat situations.

The ROTC display will also include general information about the campus ROTC program and each of the ROTC classes.

'Romeo and Juliet' auditions set

Auditions for Eastern's production of the play "Romeo and Juliet" are set for 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Fine Arts Theatre.

E.G. Gabbard of the theater department said any student enrolled at Eastern is eligible to try out, and no experience is necessary.

Rehearsal for the play will begin in late February. The play will be presented at the end of April and the beginning of May, he said.

Gabbard said the play will be cast early because new costumes will be made for the actors.

'Seduced' to play U of I

by Dawn Morville

Eastern's production of the play "Seduced" has been invited to the American College Theatre Festival and will be presented at 12:30 p.m. Friday at the University of Illinois Krannert Center for the Performing Arts.

E.G. Gabbard, professor of theater arts and director of the play, said Eastern's production was one of six plays chosen by a jury of theater experts to perform at the center.

The six plays were chosen from 23 plays produced in Illinois and Wisconsin.

Other schools invited to the festival are Northwestern, the University of Illinois, Illinois State University, Western Illinois University and the University of Wisconsin at Stevens Point.

"Seduced" was written by Sam Shepard and deals with a Howard Hughes-like character who attempts one last fling in a reunion with two former loves.

Judges will choose 10 winners from 13 regional festivals to attend the national festival in March at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C., Gabbard said.

Gabbard said Bennett has been nominated to compete for the Irene Ryan acting award Wednesday in the Studio Theatre at the U of I.

Eighteen students will be competing for the award, he said. The winner will receive $500 and will compete on a nationwide level at the Kennedy Center for a $2,000 scholarship, he said.

Tickets for the plays are $4 for students and $5 for the public and may be purchased at the Krannert Center in Champaign.

in the buildings on campus. He added the residence halls are operating at 50 percent capacity, with half of the students back from break.

Charleston Assistant Police Chief Herb Steidinger said the department has not received any calls from area residents with major problems.

"Generally, the calls have concerned stalled vehicles and elderly citizens inquiring about utility problems," Steidinger said.

He added that during especially cold weather, officers try to concentrate more on the residential areas during the midnight shift to watch for fires people may not be aware of while they sleep.

Ted Ivarie, dean of the School of Business, said department chairmen in his area would monitor student add-drops by establishing a list of priority students—for instance, a final semester senior who pre-registered last fall would take precedence over a final semester senior who did not pre-register.

Ivarie said students who find a desired class closed while attempting to add that class would consult the department chairman, who would note the student's class rank and whether or not he pre-registered and make a decision from the list of students wanting that particular class.

The delay should be no longer than a day, he said.

Drop requests would be handled at tables in the Union, with business school faculty handling decisions, he added.

English department chairman James Quivey, math department chairman Alphonse DiPietro, and chemistry department chairman David Ebdon said add-drops in their departments would be handled as in the past at the Union tables, with exceptional cases referred to department chairmen.

But paced by senior Mark Gronowski's second place finish in the tournament at 167, the Panthers managed to post an 11th place finish out of 53 teams.

"That was the first time we ever had a finalist at Midlands. Mark did an outstanding job," Clinton said. Gronowski, who finished 5-1, lost to Oklahoma's Dave Schultz. Powerful Oklahoma nabbed the tournament title.

Senior Randy Blackman at 118 also turned in a solid showing by taking sixth place in registering a 4-3 record.

"I'm really satisfied we finished that high," Clinton said. "I expected to finish in the top 20 but almost breaking into the top 10 was outstanding."

Before their Midlands stint, the Panthers avenged last year's 26-14 loss to Indiana by dumping the Hoosiers at Lantz Gym behind Savegnago's 11-0 decision over Dave Langworthy.

Last year's loss to Indiana marked only the second Panther dual defeat in the past six years, and Clinton said his squad was eager to avenge the loss.

With three matches remaining in the contest and Indiana holding a 13-12 lead, Gronowski pinned Doug Stroble to give Eastern an 18-13 lead.

McCormick and Indiana's Scott Stevens grappled to a tie at 190, which made the score 20-15 before Savegnago secured the win with his heavyweight decision.

Other Panther winners included Blackman at 118, Derek Porter at 126, Mike Polz at 158 and Dan Sanko at 167.

The Panthers will return to action with dual meets against Missouri 2 p.m. Friday and Ball State 2 p.m. Sunday at Lantz Gym.

Cagers' break plagued by lack of confidence

by Steve Binder

Instead of Eastern's men cagers receiving a seven-game winning streak for Christmas, the Panthers lacked confidence over break and struggled to achieve a 3-4 mark.

Eastern, now 6-7 after Monday night's win over Campbell College, played five of the seven contests on the road which contributed to the cagers' disappointing showing.

But Panther head coach Rick Samuels attributed his squad's lack of confidence as the main factor for Eastern's Christmas break performance.

"We are struggling confidence-wise right now," Samuels said. "We're hesitating when we're out on the floor and we're just not executing as well as we should be, especially on offense."

Eastern posted a meager 65-points-a-game average while allowing its opponents 73.5 points a contest.

"We're also waiting 10-12 minutes into the ballgame before we really get going and we can't continue to do that," Samuels added.

However, grabbing the spotlight throughout the seven contests was junior transfer student Kevin Jones, who averaged 15.4 points a game coming off the bench. Jones leads the Panthers in scoring with a 14.2 average.

"Kevin's play is a pleasant surprise. He's an explosive type of player who penetrates well. He gives us a big lift coming off the bench," Samuels said.

However, Eastern's top three scorers last season, All-American Ricky Robinson, Jim Williams and Eddie Jones, failed to produce offensively in combining to average just 17.3 points a game.

"None of them have been playing up to their potential but they could break loose at any point and I expect them to," Samuels said.

A complete seven-game Christmas break wrap-up is as follows:

Eastern 64, Southern University 63

Forward Tim Dykstra capped an incredible Panther rally with a 10-foot jumper with three seconds remaining to give Eastern the upset win in Baton Rouge, La.

Paced by Kevin Jones' 21 points, the Panthers erased a 20-point deficit in the second half behind an explosive offensive display.

"The Southern victory really helped our confidence," Samuels said. "We had an amazing comeback. We had lost a couple of close ballgames before that contest and the win gave us a positive attitude about winning close games."

Robinson added 10 points as Dykstra tallied eight and Williams six points in the Panther win.

Morehead State 79, Eastern 77

Morehead State's Dickie Alexander tipped in a missed shot at the buzzer to eliminate Eastern's comeback victory bid in Morehead, Ky.

The Panthers trailed 55-46 with 13:33 remaining in the game, but led by Kevin Jones' 21-point performance, Eastern managed to knot the score at 77 late in the contest.

"I felt we played well at Morehead but the loss was very deflating. It hurt our confidence," Samuels said.

Illinois State 94, Eastern 55

The Panthers returned to Lantz Gym

after their five-game road trip only to be humiliated by the Redbirds behind 6-foot-7 center Rick Lamb's 25-point, 11-rebound display.

Illinois State completely dominated the contest midway through the first half, as Samuels cited physical and mental fatigue as the main cause of the blowout.

"We were physically tired from the road trip and mentally exhausted from final exams. We only had two and a half days to prepare and we just played poorly," Samuels said.

Murray State 71, Eastern 70

Murray State's Glen Green sunk a 20-foot jumper with 18 seconds left in the game to boost the Pacers to victory in the first contest of the Evansville Holiday Tournament in Indiana.

The Panthers held a 70-69 lead and possession of the ball with 27 seconds remaining, but Kevin Jones missed a layup that allowed Green's winning bucket.

Robinson's desperation shot at the buzzer bounced off the back of the rim, failing to give Eastern the upset win over the Pacers, whose record was 8-2.

Kevin Jones led Eastern with 18 points as forward Leigh Hankins and guard Warren Patten both added 14.

Eastern 68, Tennessee Tech 67

Samuels said his squad turned in one of its worst performances of the season despite posting the victory for third place in the Evansville tournament.

The Panthers shot a poor 40 percent from the field and survived two Tennessee game-winning scoring opportunities with 10 seconds left.

"I thought we were really flat and we didn't make any progress offensively or defensively. We won which was good but we really played poorly," Samuels said.

Kevin Jones paced Eastern again with 21 points as Robinson added 13 and Hankins and Patten both chipped in 12.

Indiana State 88, Eastern 64

The Sycamores utilized a front line of 6-foot-10 Winfred King, 6-foot-9 Ken Bannister and 6-foot-8 James Smith to pound the Panthers in Terre Haute.

The Indiana State trio combined to score 43 points and grab 25 rebounds.

"They (Indiana State) were obviously just more physically powerful than we were. They were very intimidating inside and we fell behind early and couldn't recover," Samuels said.

Patten led Eastern with 10 points, as the Panthers converted just 40 percent of their shots.

Eastern 67, William Penn 53

After a sluggish first-half performance, the Panthers came back from a 47-40 deficit with 11 minutes left in the game to notch their fifth victory against seven defeats Wednesday at Lantz Gym.

But the Panthers' 39-percent field goal mark disturbed Samuels.

"We're just not shooting well at all. We missed five layups in the first half which can be attributed to a lack of mental sharpness. We played hard in the second half and we were able to pull away with the win," Samuels said.

Kevin Jones led the Panthers again with 22 points as Hankins added 14 and Robinson had 11.

Robinson leads cagers past Campbell 78 - 71

by Dave Claypool

BUIES CREEK, N.C.—Eastern utilized a pesky second-half defense and took advantage of its free throw opportunities en route to an easy 78-71 victory over Campbell University Monday night at Carter Gymnasium.

Though the final tally put the Panthers on top by just seven points, a 12-point unanswered Panther spurt midway through the final half boosted Eastern to a 65-50 lead with just 3:26 remaining.

In the scoring run, senior forward Ricky Robinson posted six points while finishing the game with a season high 24, 14 of which came in the opening half.

In the opening 20 minutes, Eastern shot off to an early 18-10 lead with 13:30 left, but a three-point play by Rett Newton at the 1:49 mark gave the Camels a 35-33 lead and led them to a 38-35 halftime margin.

But Eastern, behind back-to-back field goals by Leigh Hankins in the opening minutes of the second half, quickly regained the lead which it never again relinquished.

In the final minutes of the game free throws played a vital role. Keen tosses from the line by transfer Kevin Jones kept the Camels out of reach.

Jones connected on nine free throws in the final four minutes, while hitting for 13 second-half points and 16 for the game.

Also scoring in double figures for the Panthers were senior guard Warren Patten who contributed 14 points and Hankins who added 10.

Though Eastern boasted four men in double figures on the night, their tallies were overshadowed by Campbell's Ron Curtis who muscled in 30 points, 19 of which came in the final half.

Grapplers dump Indiana; place 11th at tournament

by Steve Binder

Despite possessing a host of injured grapplers, Eastern's wrestling squad posted a 24-15 dual victory over Indiana University Dec. 11 and captured 11th place at the prestigious Midlands Tournament Dec. 29-30.

The grapplers' impressive performances during break elated Panther head coach Ron Clinton, who stressed the disadvantage of injuries plaguing his squad.

"I'm overly pleased with our performances considering the number of injuries we've had," Clinton said.

"We've been plagued with injuries all season and I think we will field a completely healthy team when the season is over.

"We'd be making progress but then we would get some more of those nagging injuries. But we're doing well wrestling with those injuries," Clinton added.

Three-time senior All-American Geno Savegnago (fractured fingers) at 190 and junior All-American Dennis McCormick (knee) at 177 did not compete in the Midlands Tournament.

Women cagers post undefeated break

by Nancy Saegesser

Eastern's women's basketball coach Bobbie Hilke received a four-game winning streak for Christmas as her squad boosted its season record to 7-3 during Christmas break with explosive offensive and aggressive defensive performances.

The Panthers handled SIU-Edwardsville before final exams and copped an upset win over the University of Dayton Dec. 19 before coming home from a shortened Christmas break to rout Ball State Jan. 6 and the University of Missouri-St. Louis Jan. 9.

"Over all four games, we're still not shooting all that well," Hilke said. "We're hitting about 40 percent from the field and around 60 from the line. We're taking the good shots but we're missing a lot.

"We've opened it (offense) up a lot more," the Panther coach added. "We're running more and we've got the kids to run."

Hilke's crew has run for a 73 points-per-game average through ten games.

Freshman center Toni Collins has burst onto the Panther scoring scene since her 25-point performance at Purdue Dec. 8 and is averaging 16 points and 9.7 rebounds per game including a 26-point showing in the win over Dayton.

"I don't think she thought she could do the same things on the college level that she was capable of doing in high school and now she's found that she can," Hilke said.

A complete Christmas break game wrap-up is as follows:

Eastern 79, SIU-Edwardsville 56

The Panthers utilized a late first-half rally to take a 20-point advantage at halftime and continued to bury the Cougars by hitting 35 of 59 shots for a 60-percent mark.

Nancy Kassebaum led the Panthers with 19 points as Collins added 17 and Kathy Lanter chipped in 12.

Eastern 59, Dayton 54

Collins poured in 26 points and grabbed 14 rebounds as Eastern registered its first win against Division II powerhouse Dayton.

The Panthers had a seemingly comfortable 18-point lead with 7:19 left in the game but had to fight off a determined comeback effort to clip the wings of the Lady Flyers.

Lanter added six short jumpers to finish the game as the only other Panther in double figures.

Eastern 81, Ball State 64

Despite hitting just 37 percent from the field and committing 23 turnovers, the Panthers employed an awesome half-court press in the second half to insure the victory.

The Panthers turned a three-point halftime deficit into a rout by forcing 37 Ball State turnovers with pressure applied by Kassebaum and freshman guard Lori Conine.

Collins again led Eastern's scoring effort with 19 as four Panthers finished in double figures. Kassebaum scored 18 while Lanter tallied 14 and Rhonda Morel added 13.

Eastern 88, UMSL 55

Five Panthers finished in double figures as Eastern dumped the Riverwomen with balanced scoring and control of the boards.

Kassebaum totaled 22 points, four rebounds and eight assists. Lanter kept UMSL from mounting a late surge by pouring in six consecutive jumpers from the corners and finished with 16 points, five rebounds and nine assists.

Collins and Dede Edwards provided inside strength with 12 points, 12 rebounds and 10 points, 12 rebounds respectively.
